Joy L. Starks is a Professor of Computer and Information Technology at Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis. She has written chapters in several of the Shelly Cashman Series Office books and authored the Photoshop, Java Programming, and Microsoft Publisher series of books. In addition to speaking engagements, she hosts the nationally-renowned Tech Camp for Teachers on the IUPUI campus each summer.

This is a step-by-step teach yourself Publisher. I've never been confused or felt lost. I'm taking this as a distance education class at a Community college and therefore there is no teacher to actually teach. I can't recommend this book enough. The books by Shelly Cashman are great!

The book is helpful but I thought it was organized strangely. For example, on page 138 you'll find step-by-step instructions to save a file. On page 196 you'll find step-by-step instructions to open the Publisher program on your computer. You should have mastered those skills long before you got to these sections of the book, so it's confusing that step-by-step instructions are placed here. There were a few assignments/exercises in the book that were not clear (ie Newsletter Analysis) and not particularly helpful. I learned the basics, so overall I am satisfied with the purchase

I always start here for books. Great price, will continue with .

Got me up to speed in 3 days just doing the chapters.

Just starting this class. Looks like a great book.

expensive book to own, but what i needed for my class.

Easy to read and understand. Step by step instructions.

Good hands on explanations & projects.
