I love smoothies and this huge collection of smoothie recipes will keep my blender whirling all year long. I made the Custard Apple smoothie for breakfast this morning and OMG it was delicious! All of them are healthy and also easy to make. Some called for ingredients I don't always keep on hand, but it's stuff easily available at any grocery store so I just read through and stocked up on the few items I didn't already have. There are so many to choose from, the only bad part is making up my mind which one I want next.

It is nice to know as beginner!

Lots of great recipes! I'm addicted to making declines smoothies in the morning. I really like the ones that will help boost energy, better than coffee (especially the taste).The recipes are straight forward and very easy to follow
