Dawn In Swaziland (Dodo Press)

Synopsis

Charles Christopher Watts (1877-1958) was an Anglican Bishop. He was educated at Shrewsbury School and Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, graduating BA in 1899 and proceeding MA in 1904. Watts was ordained deacon in 1900 and priest in 1901 by the Bishop of London, serving as curate of St. Mark's, Noel Park, London. In 1907 he went out to Southern Africa, and began work as Priest-in-charge of Mbabane in Swaziland in the diocese of Zululand, and headmaster of St. Mark's European School (until 1920), and St. Mark's Coloured School. In 1917 he was appointed Canon of St. Peter's Cathedral, Vryheid, KwaZulu-Natal, and from 1918 he served as Archdeacon of Swaziland. Watts returned to England in 1927, to his old parish of St. Mark's, Noel Park, where he served as Vicar until 1929.

Customer Reviews

I purchased this book as a Christmas gift for my niece, who traveled to Swaziland last summer with a Christian mission group. I was very disappointed in the poor quality of the book. The typeface was very faint in many places, and the photographs were almost impossible to make out. As far as I could tell, the information contained in the the book was accurate, but the book certainly did not produce the joy in my niece that I had hoped for when I bought it.
