

Draw + Learn: Faces (My First Activity Books)

Synopsis

In these first activity books, kids can complete and color all kinds of faces: boys, girls, tigers, monkeys, even ladybugs. At first, toddlers might only draw a circle for a face, not adding eyes, nose, or mouth. But in time, they will fill in the different features, from eyelashes to teeth; from curly hair to whiskers. With bold and bright art, these ideal activity books for children who have just learned to hold a crayon or pencil. First scribbles and drawings are important, precursory steps to reading and writing!

Harriet Ziefert is the author of many children's books. The mother of two and grandmother of five, she lives in South Orange, New Jersey. The author lives in South Orange, NJ. Tonya Roitman holds an MFA from the Estonian Academy of Arts. Her artistic career started when she took a job with the St. Petersburg Russian Circus. Since then, she illustrated more than fifty books for children. Tanya currently resides in New Jersey

I love that this book has both direct instructions, but also allows for the occasional "free creation."
My 4 year old thought it was great and wants to use it almost every day.

Great book. My three year old enjoys drawing the faces in this book and his drawings are really starting to look like actual faces. I would recommend this.

I bought a lot of these books for my nieces and they all love it. The pages are really colorful and engaging. The instructions are easy to follow. I can see kids learning gradually from these books.
