Carbone's Cookbook: Old-World Elegance And The Best Italian Food In The Northeast

Synopsis

While Italian restaurants are popular throughout the United States, New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut make up the part of the country most associated with the great ones. And one of the best is Carbone's in Hartford, Connecticut. Founded sixty-five years ago, Carbone's is Hartford's oldest and best-reviewed restaurant. The founder, Charlie Carbone, learned some of his best recipes from New York restaurants by going into their kitchens, posing as a health inspector, and watching their chefs. In the 1960's, chef Gaetano Carbone created a weekly special and many of these recipes by "the master" are in the book. Vinnie Carbone continues the family tradition and has a unique way of catering special events. Carbone's Cookbook not only contains the creative recipes of Executive Chef Paul Rafella and Michael McDowell, but also takes you inside a real family-owned Italian restaurant. Well into its second half-century, Carbone's is famous for its Veal All Bergamo, Roasted Mushrooms, Scampi Popalardo, Filetto do Manzo and Salmone Alla Senape. In keeping with the tradition of celebrating the finest regional restaurants in the United States, Carbone's is the sixth restaurant in the United States to be chosen to be a Roadfood cookbook by authors Jane and Michael Stern.

We actually eat here Carbone's, its the next town over (Hartford Ct.) and the food is great! The only thing it's not in a good section of town, but worth trying to make some of these recipes :)

Overall, this is a nice Italian cookbook. I've tried about a dozen recipes so far and have yet to be disappointed. Had they included some color photos, it would have rated a five star rating.

Love reading these cookbooks. I will probably not get to them, but through the books it makes you feel like you are there.

Another cookbook with print that one can't read. This print is in a light brown and extremely hard to read.

Hartford's family-run, Italian restaurant celebrates its third generation with a compilation of favorites, from Fried Eggplant, Cheese Fondue, Pepper Steak, and Green Noodles with Hog Jowls, to Fettuccini Alfredo, Duck Orzo, Pear and Gorgonzola Salad, and Conch and Squid Stew. There's a chapter on "Stone Pies" (pizza), which includes Clam and Pancetta, and Grilled Pear with Stilton Cheese and Foie Gras, but for the most part, the food is solid and traditional and mouth watering. The sauce chapter includes an Anchovy and Caper Sauce, several wine sauces and a Gorgonzola sauce as well as pesto and tomato sauces. A must-try is a sauce no longer offered at the restaurant - a pesto made with salted peanuts. There's cannelloni (made with real crepes), risotto and ravioli, Veal Marsala, Piedmont Beef and Chicken Cacciatore. There are also lots of family specialties and dishes inspired by customers and friends over the years. A fine addition to the series of restaurant cookbooks put together by regional food experts Jane and Michael Stern.

Collaboratively presented by Jane and Michael Stern (with recipes by Gaetano Carbone and Vincent Carbone) Carbone's Cookbook: Old-World Elegance And The Best Italian Food In The Northeast is an impressive cookbook collection celebrating popular favorites of Carbone's restaurant with utterly delectable Italian old-world culinary creations. Taste and customer-tested dishes include Gorgonzola Salad, Spinach Pie Nicola, Chicken Diavola, Salmon in Phyllo, Pumpkin Cake and more. An informative introduction offers a fascinating glimpse into the colorful history of Carbone's, and the recipes themselves each have a brief overview of the dish and its highlights in addition to extensive, easy-to-follow instructions. Carbone's Cookbook is a simply superb guide for cooks of all skill and experience levels seeking to create true restaurant-quality Italian food.

I bought this book for my brother as a basic Italian cook book and he seems to really enjoy it. He has made a few of the recipes and really enjoyed them.
