Congress for the New Urbanism is the leading organization promoting walkable, mixed-use neighborhood development, sustainable communities and healthier living conditions. Emily Talen, Editor, is a Professor in the School of Geographical Sciences and Urban Planning at Arizona State University (ASU), Director of the Phoenix Urban Research Lab (PURL) at ASU, and Co-Editor of the Journal of Urbanism.

While the book is everything you would ever want in terms of content and brilliance of the contributors, people should be aware that despite what .com says in its description, this is a softcover book (not a hardcover). I would hate for other people to be as disappointed as I was when I opened the box and found a softcover. Once you get over that issue, the book represents a very nice update of the original Charter.

Great Book

It was disappointing when i opened the book, i saw all plans and images, diagram are in black and white.the page outline is not well-done and designed, the text and heading are very small. After reading the explanation of each charter, the Author leaves you without clear conclusion, which ,makes you confused.
